SCENARIO: Select four gilts to retain in a Midwestern show pig operation that focuses on raising elite gilts that will either be retained in the herd or sold at state and national shows. These gilts will be bred to elite show pig sires from nationally competitive boar studs throughout the U.S. The firm wants to maintain their tradition of producing productive females that are not only competitive at national shows, but most importantly maintain maternal genetic traits. The top end of the barrows will be marketed online as prospects targeted for NJSA and 4-H/ FFA members to exhibit at junior livestock shows throughout the U.S.
