The National FFA Organization National Event Winners - Veterinary Science 2025

INDIANAPOLIS- Participants of the National FFA Veterinary Science Career Development Event (CDE) were recognized on Thursday during the second session of the 98th National FFA Convention & Expo in Indianapolis. Dr. Kyle Shipman of the Indiana Bureau of Animal Health served as superintendent of this year's event.

The top ten individuals and the national winning team members received cash awards to recognize their success in the event.

The veterinary science event aims to promote college and career readiness by developing students' technical knowledge and practical skills in veterinary science. Participants will demonstrate professional ethics, decision-making, business competency, communication, and problem-solving skills. They will also show technical competence with small and large animals in anatomy and physiology, clinical procedures, identification, health and safety, medical terminology, and veterinary math applications. Presented as a holistic team activity, it requires participants to analyze scenarios, present findings, and respond to questions from judges. By participating in this event, students prepare for careers in veterinary science, gaining valuable knowledge and skills in a hands-on, competitive environment.

This event, held at the Indiana State Fairgrounds in Indianapolis, is one of many educational activities at the national convention in which FFA members apply classroom knowledge to real-life situations.
