Information provided to students:

Mr. and Mrs. Seperich operate a custom baling operation. They have multiple customers that produce corn, alfalfa, wheat, soybeans, oats, etc. Some customers are a combination of crop farmers, livestock producers, and dairy operations. They have one adult child.

Supplemental Information: STUDENTS MUST ASK QUESTIONS TO FIND OUT

Due to a shortage of hay and bedding in the area, you have been asked to bale some soybean stubble in combination with your normal baling of wheat and alfalfa. The hay will be stored so you are interested in a moisture meter and are interested in using a preservative in the hay.

Your customers are after round bales.

Bale size is not an issue.

You have already sold your current baler for 569 premium for $45,000
